

ALL CLUBS

A Cappella Club, UW (UWACC)

The objective of the club is to support the existence, growth, and development of collegiate a cappella and cappella groups on campus. An a cappella ensemble is a vocal group which performs without the use of instruments. Our repertoire spans many genres including pop, r&b, rock, jazz standards, barber shop and many more! The UW A Cappella Club (UWACC) was founded in Spring 2008 originally with one ensemble and has since expanded to include five main a cappella groups:

A typical term includes an information session for new and old members within the first two weeks of classes. Auditions for the 4 auditioned groups begin shortly after the information session. During the term, social events are held as well as workshops run by club members and professional musicians. The term ends off with the End of Term (EOT) concerts held every term at the Theatre of the Arts in Modern Languages. Groups typically practice 1-2 times a week and learn around a 16 minute choreographed set for the EOT concerts. Outside of the EOT concerts, there are numerous performance and gig opportunities on campus and within the K-W area where the groups get to interact with the community at large.

Act, UW

The purpose of UW ACT is to build a community through service. UW ACT looks to discuss global issues and address them locally. It is a place for the growth of ideas and conversations of how we can make a difference in the Kitchener/Waterloo community. It is founded on the belief that we as students already have enough knowledge to help.

WHAT WE DO:

We connect students to various levels of volunteer positions at local service organizations, as well as have periodic discussions on topics relating to global issues such as poverty, development, innovations, and what organizations are doing around the world. We will also host fundraising or donation events for clothing, food, and other things people or organizations may need, as well as campus-wide events to encourage the participation of students in the local community.

We are currently connected to three local organizations in the K-W area, and are constantly looking to expand. We also hope to establish a strong relationship with the connected organizations and participate in helping to improve their services.

Bengali Students Association (BSA)

The Bengali Students' Association was established in 1999. As a cultural organization, our main goal has always been to promote Bengali culture within the University of Waterloo. We aim to unite the Bengali community through various humanitarian and social projects. Such events include fundraisers, cultural shows, sporting events, dinners, movies, and volunteer work.

It has been the constant aim of the BSA to encourage the idea that there is unity in diversity; and it uses this concept to promote leadership, awareness, and social responsibility among its members.

We invite everyone to join this club regardless of their ethnic or religious background in the hope of showing them our rich cultural heritage and background.

Best Buddies, UW

Best Buddies was founded in the United States in 1993 and has expanded worldwide. As a participating school, the University of Waterloo Best Buddies Chapter's goal is to make our community more inclusive and accepting of people with intellectual disabilities.

The club consists of peer buddies and associate members. Peer buddies are students paired in a one-to-one friendship with a person who has an intellectual disability (called buddies). Buddies are adults from the community with intellectual disabilities. Matches are made for at least one academic year. Associate members are students who are part of the chapter but who are not paired in one-to-one friendships. Associate members can play support roles and help plan events. They can also participate in group events.

Each year, the chapter starts off by having an information session to assign interview times due to the limited buddies available. Once the club members have been decided, police check forms (sheets are provided by the chapter) are required in order for peer buddies to go on one-on-one outings together. the chapter plans monthly events for all members to attend with their buddies. Some events include bowling, Waterloo's Wonders of Winter Lights Festival, and movie night. Any suggestions are welcomed!

Children's Technological Education Network (Childrens10)

The University of Waterloo's chapter of Children's Technological Education Network (Childrens 10) aims to:

- provide technological tools for children to enhance and empower social and educational skills
- provide children a chance to explore cultures, sights, information and diversity from around the globe that they would otherwise not be privileged to access
- encourage active learning and development using internet based social interaction
- provide a platform for children to apply their skills to tackle prevailing issues in their community and the world through collaboration and team building
- supply well rounded mentors to guide the children with the given tools on the path to empowerment
- promote and increase community capacity through engaging volunteer programs
- create an atmosphere for underprivileged children to practice and apply global interdependence for a smaller and friendlier world
- provide children with technological skills that will make them more employable as adults
- reduce the technological divide between the wealthy and the poor
- be a platform where different people, from different cultures with different careers connect

Christians on Campus

Christians on Campus (CoC) are believers in Christ. Thus, we love the Lord Jesus Christ and endeavor to give Him "the first place in all things" (Col. 1:18). Whether meeting one-on-one or in small groups, our desire is to cooperate with Him for the accomplishment of God's eternal purpose (Eph. 3:11) by ministering the unsearchable riches of Christ (Eph. 3:8) for the building up of the Body of Christ (Eph. 4:12). We warmly receive all believers in Christ, and people who want to learn about Christ and we seek to maintain the oneness of the Spirit by keeping our focus on Christ. He is so rich! He is so full! He is everything to us, and He is the center of our enjoyment. Christians on Campus is a registered Federation of Students club at the University of Waterloo. We hold the faith that is common to all believers. Through daily prayer, Bible reading, and Christian fellowship we are growing "in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ" (2 Pet. 3:18). To Him be the glory both now and forever. Amen. For further information, including our weekly gatherings such as our Bible study, please contact us or visit our website.

Cooking Club, UW

The Cooking Club serves up cooking classes, potlucks, barbeques, and other food related adventures. We cover the full spectrum of foods from fancy-shmancy sushi cooking classes to quick and dirty tips to help you manage the necessary evil known as 'cooking during midterms'. We regularly hold potlucks in hot, sweaty rooms to sample dishes from our members, exchange recipes, socialize, and pit our dishes against each other in a Battle-Royalesque contest to see who has the best cooking skillz. When we're not in the kitchen or hosting potlucks, we occasionally venture out to the real world to visit coffee roasters, picnic areas, strawberry fields, or bonfire pits. If we're not doing any of the above, our members are usually trying to sell you a burger or a cupcake at one of our barbeques or bake sales to help fuel the culinary debauchery.

Duke of Edinburgh Waterloo Chapter

The Duke of Edinburgh's Award is an internationally renowned award where individuals can achieve three different levels (Bronze, Silver and Gold) through completing goals in volunteer work, skill development, physical recreation and expeditions. It is a flexible, self-directed and non-competitive award for anyone in the age of 16-25 who are eager to make a difference. You can choose your own activities based on your interests, needs and resources.

The UW Chapter is a network of Duke of Ed participants and award achievers who are here to help you achieve the award through planning awesome outdoor expeditions and connecting you with other organizations for volunteer work.

Imagine 4 days (with no sign of civilization or cell phone reception) and 3 nights under the stars. You'll be amazed at what you learn when you are placed out of your comfort zone, in a natural environment; the way mother earth intended. Engage yourself. Expand your boundaries. Experience Canada.

Scinapse (UW)

The purpose of the club is to gather undergraduate students interested in experiential learning in the sciences by fielding multiple teams to compete in the annual Scinapse Undergraduate Science Case Competition (USCC). The USCC is a fantastic outlet for science undergraduates to be creative, innovative and to explore science outside of the classroom. Each year, a topic is presented; then, students work in teams of up to 4 to propose a solution to the topic. The process involves reading literature, brainstorming ideas, writing a research proposal and - if they make the final round - creating a scientific poster and presenting at a conference. These are all skills critical to keen undergraduate students who may be interested in pursuing academic careers in research.

Sikh Students Association

The University of Waterloo Sikh Students Association (SSA) attempts to provide an environment on campus, and beyond, that helps to promote the Sikh religion by practicing its beliefs and traditions. The above is achieved through various discussion groups, weekly path sessions, kirtans, guest speakers, Q/A periods and a variety of religious/language classes provided by fellow students. As well, UW SSA attempts to participate in a wide range of multi-cultural activities both on campus, and within the Sikh community (such as trips to the Gurdwara, Vaisakhi, etc).

In addition, our club organizes a number of intramural co-ed sports teams (Basketball and Volleyball, usually) and social functions (pool tournaments, bowling, etc.) and outings (dinners, horseback riding, skiing trips) that form the bulk of our time commitments.

We hope to create a 'family' atmosphere by developing an hierarchy-less club that is devoted to providing an avenue for interaction amongst Sikh students at our University. UW SSA also provides educational help (study groups, old texts, exams, etc.) and holds one of the most successful on-campus events, 'Dastaar day', previously known as 'Turban Day' once a semester. This is an awareness day to teach the University community about the significance of the turban in Sikhism. We desire to produce conditions conducive to the further study, research and practice of Sikhism by our fellow Sikh students and all others interested in any aspect of the Sikh religion.

Students Offering Support, UW

Waterloo SOS is a national charitable organization that is currently present in almost all Canadian Universities. Our aim is to support third world countries through student volunteer trips where we send UW students to local communities to help build libraries, schools, etc. To raise funding for these trips, we host exam aid sessions taught by Upper Year students who have successfully completed the course. For each student we tutor, we ask for a generous donation of $20 to support our charitable initiatives. In return, we offer them a 2 hour EXAM-AID tutorial, along with a comprehensive study guide and practice problems to help them succeed on their exam!

Style Society, UW (UWSS)

UW Style Society was created to empower University of Waterloo students to showcase their personal styles and share their interest of fashion with other students. UW Style Society's slogan "One Size Fits All" represents our common interest of fashion and how we accommodate to all styles. Our club means to do this by creating an environment in which students can learn, share and express fashion through creative freedom and without prejudice.

Toastmasters, UW

Looking to develop speaking and leadership skills? Ace a job interview? Ignite your career?

Toastmasters International (TI) is a world leader in communication and leadership development. UW Toastmasters is a TI chapter that is filled with inquisitive and enthusiastic members. We bond and learn together at weekly meetings (Thursdays 5:30 - 6:30pm), competitions, workshops, and social events.

Membership in Toastmasters is one of the greatest investments you can make in yourself. At less than $20 every month, it is also one of the most cost-effective skill-building tools available anywhere.

How Does It Work?

A Toastmasters meeting is a learn-by-doing workshop in which participants hone their speaking and leadership skills in a no-pressure atmosphere.

There is no instructor in a Toastmasters meeting. Instead, members evaluate one another's presentations. This feedback process is a key part of the program's success.

Meeting participants also give impromptu talks on assigned topics, conduct meetings and develop skills related to timekeeping, grammar and parliamentary procedure.

Members learn communication skills by working in the Competent Communication manual, a series of 10 self-paced speaking assignments designed to instill a basic foundation in public speaking. Come to a meeting and see it for yourself. We will answer any questions you have in person or via email, Facebook, Twitter.

Tzu Ching, UW (UWTC)

The goals for the Tzu Chi Collegiate Association (Tzu Ching) are to promote morals, strengthen character, instill a spirit of "great mercy even to strangers and great compassion for all," exemplify humility, respect and elegance in character, and become an example for all young people of the community.

The club works to improve campus environments everywhere by holding various school activities and spreading information regarding Tzu Chi. UWTC provides many volunteer opportunities which are easily accessible for students. These volunteering stations provide students a great way to meet new people, make some friends, all the while giving back to the community. A few examples of our volunteering stations include University Plaza Recycling station, Waterloo Food Bank, and Humanity School (Assisting teachers by tending to their students during class and recess time).

The club also provides monthly on-campus events where we discuss topics such as people skills and time management. What's unique is the club presents these materials while tying in Buddhist beliefs. UWTC provides a practical environment for students to build their personal skills, volunteer and contribute to the community, and learn about Buddhism in a practical manner. These are skills which are beneficial to every student during their University careers and UWTC provides a positive environment for students to gain these skills.

There is no membership process: no application and no membership fee! To participate in UWTC activities, all you have to do is sign up to our mailing list, so you will be informed about the upcoming events. Information of upcoming events will be sent via e-mail 3-4 days prior to the event.

Uke W – Ukulele Jam

Uke W - Ukulele Jam is a student group at the University of Waterloo that enjoy getting together once a week to play music using ukuleles. Our jams are 1.5 hours in length and are intended to be very informal. During the jam all of the lyrics and chords for the songs we play are displayed using a data projector. This means that there is no advanced preparation required to participate in the jam, just come with your ukulele tuned and be ready to sing and play!

Vegetation,UW

The Vegetation club at the University of Waterloo is a community of individuals that are vegan, vegetarian, or otherwise. It is intended to educate people on information concerning vegan/vegetarian, health, environment, and animal rights issues. This group has both social and activist aspects: our members have the opportunity to meet and socialize with other vegetarians/vegans in the Waterloo community, and can help educate the Waterloo community on the detrimental effects of the consumption of animal products.

The group regularly conducts social events such as potlucks, road trips, social nights, bake sales, as well as hosts speakers and films for education purposes. You do not have to be a vegan or vegetarian to participate in group events, we are happy to have you!

Waterloo Geospatial Club (UWGC)

The University of Waterloo Geospatial Club is for students keen on learning and applying new GIS skills. Members benefit from workshops, presentations, projects, and access to one of the university's computer labs with industry standard GIS software. The workshops and projects focus on skill development of techniques and tools typically not taught in the classroom. Individuals with project ideas related to geospatial information and data creation may apply for a Project Lead position where they can direct club members and use club resources to complete the project. The opportunities provided in this club are ideal for individuals seeking resume builders for GIS-related positions.

Waterloo Ismaili Students Association

The Waterloo Ismaili Students Association (WISA) is a not-for-profit organization that primarily provides a venue for Ismaili Muslim students attending UW to congregate for daily prayers. The club emphasizes a strong sense of community and also holds educational, social, and sports events for our members, in which the greater community is often encouraged to participate.

Waterloo Ismaili Students' Association (WISA)

Waterloo Plants Society

Waterloo Plants Society offers the University of Waterloo community with opportunities to learn more about plants that are so essential for our day to day lives. Through interactive events, activities, workshops and lectures, we will discuss interesting facts, biophysical attributes as well as controversies of various plants. We'll touch upon various edible and non-edible plants and discuss what make the plants the way they are. With more knowledge regarding plants, we hope to inspire healthier and more sustainable decision-making when it comes to plant material consumption and usage.

We are open to everyone, whether you just want to learn more about the awesomeness of plants, or are already excited about them as we are!
